Keio Mogusaen 29

560 Mogusa, Hino-shi ☎042-591-3478

Hino City-designated Historic Site and Place of Scenic Beauty "Mogusaen (site of Shorenji-temple)"

In the Kyōhō era (1716 – 1735) of the Edo period, the nun Jushouin Jigaku Genchouni, a widow of marquis Ōkubo, Lord of Odawara Domain, had rebuilt the Shorenji temple for mourning for Tokugawa Ieyasu's eldest son, Nobuyasu. The property grew through the ages into what is now Keio Mogusaen. In the autumn, you can see beautiful maple leaves; during plum season, 500 trees of 50 varieties race to show their blossoms and the splendor of the park reaches its climax.

Hama Palace where sea breeze blows
as a reminder of the Edo period

Hama-rikyu Gardens ①

1-1 Hamarikyuteien, Chuo-ku ☎03-3541-0200

National-designated Special Place of Scenic Beauty and Special Historic Site
"Former Hama-rikyu Teien Gardens"

This is the family garden of the Tokugawa Shogun, which functioned as an outer fort for Edo castle that retains a tidal pond of seawater drawn from the bay called Shioiri-no-ike and 2 duck hunting grounds. In 1654, the fourth shogun, Ietsuna's younger brother, Matsudaira Tsunashige, reclaimed land from the sea and built his detached residence called "Hama-goten". Thereafter, several improvements to the garden were carried out by the shoguns, then it was finally completed almost as we see it now. After the Meiji Restoration, the garden became a detached palace of the Imperial Family, changing its name to Hama-rikyu. The Imperial Family donated the garden to the City of Tokyo in November 1945, and the garden opened to the public in April, 1946 as Hama-rikyu Gardens. Later, the garden was designated as a Special Place of Scenic Beauty and Special Historic Site of the country. *Apr. 1st, 2026 will mark the 80th anniversary of the garden's opening.

Place that is famous for its relation with Mito Komon

Koishikawa Korakuen Gardens ③

1-6-6 Koraku, Bunkyo-ku ☎03-3811-3015

National-designated Special Historic Site and Special Place of Scenic Beauty "Koishikawa Korakuen Gardens"

The construction of the garden started in 1629 in the early Edo era by the feudal lord Tokugawa Yorifusa, the lord of the Mito branch, one of "the Three Houses of the Tokugawa," and was completed in the hands of his son, the second domain lord, Tokugawa Mitsukuni (Mito Komon). When creating the garden, Mitsukuni incorporated the advice of Zhu Shunshui, a loyal retainer of the Ming dynasty, and arranged Chinese-style landscapes such as the "Saiko-no-tsutsumi" and the "Full Moon Bridge". The name of the garden, "Korakuen", was also chosen by Zhu Shunshui and comes from the Yueyang Lou Ji (Memorial on the Yueyang Tower) by Fan Zhongyan of the Song dynasty. The garden is in the style of a strolling garden with a pond and artificial hills, ideal for walks. The garden has been chosen as a National-designated Special Historic Site and Special Place of Scenic Beauty under the Law for the Protection of Cultural Properties.

from JR Hamamatsucho Station

Kyu-Shiba-rikyu Gardens ②

1-4-1 Kaigan, Minato-ku ☎03-3434-4029

National-designated Place of Scenic Beauty "Garden of Former Shiba-rikyu"

Kyu-Shiba-rikyu is one of the oldest Edo-era feudal lord's gardens. It is a typical Japanese garden with a pond surrounded by a path featuring superb ground and stonework. Kyu-Shiba-rikyu is filled with artificial hills that provide excellent views of the environment. The highest hill, Oyama, provides a full panoramic view. After that, Kyu-Shiba-rikyu was owned by several families, and in January 1924, it was bestowed upon Tokyo City in commemoration of the wedding of Emperor Showa and opened to the public in April of the same year as Kyu-Shiba-rikyu Gardens.

A graceful daimyo garden filled with refined mind of Waka poetry

Rikugien Gardens ④

6-16-3 Hon-komagome, Bunkyo-ku ☎03-3941-2222

National-designated Special Place of Scenic Beauty "Rikugien Gardens"

Rikugien is a kaiyu-style (strolling) daimyo garden with human-made hills and a pond with a basic idea based on the love of waka poetry. It was constructed in 1702 by the lord of Kawagoe domain, Yanagisawa Yoshiyasu who was deeply trusted by the 5th shogun, Tokugawa Tsunayoshi. In this fine and tranquil Japanese garden, we can enjoy a wide range of beautiful views while strolling along the pond. This place is a typical and representative daimyo garden of the Edo era.

Strolling-style garden decorated with famous stones collected from all over Japan

Kiyosumi Gardens 7

3-3-9 Kiyosumi, Koto-ku ☎03-3641-5892

Tokyo Metropolitan Government-designated Place of Scenic Beauty "Kiyosumi Gardens"

In the Meiji period, Yatarō Iwasaki purchased this area, which during the Edo period was originally the residence of Kuze Yamato-no-kami, the feudal lord of Sekiyado Domain in Shimōsa Province, and adapted it as a resting place for his employees and a place to invite distinguished guests. The garden construction went on until it was completed as the most representative "kaiyu-style (strolling-style) garden" in the Meiji era that include a large pond drawing water from Sumida river, manmade hills and dry landscape gardens in particular valuable stones collected from all over the country. The garden suffered extensive damage during the Great Kanto Earthquake of 1923. After being donated to Tokyo city, it was restored, renovated, and opened in 1932 and remains one of the finest examples of a Meiji period strolling-style garden.

The only surviving flower garden from the Edo period

Mukojima-Hyakkaen Gardens 6

3-18-3 Higashi-Mukojima, Sumida-ku ☎03-3611-8705

National-designated Place of Scenic Beauty and Historic Site "Mukojima Hyakkaen Flower Gardens"

This flower garden was built in the early 19th century, when Edo's urban culture was at its peak. A wealthy antique dealer named Sahara kiku, assisted by his friends with literary and artistic tastes and talents, took an initiative to open a flower garden for viewing pleasure of flower-bearing vegetation. According to a theory, the name "Hyakkaen" (hundred-flower garden) means "Garden where a hundred of flowers bloom four seasons of the year". At the beginning, the garden was featured by 360 plum trees, but later, well known plants quoted in Chinese and Japanese classics like "Shikyo" (China's oldest collection of poems) and "Manyo-shu" (the existing oldest collection of Waka poems in Japan) were collected until the garden provided flowers throughout the seasons. Hyakkaen was built with a commoner's touch. Constructed by literary persons, it strongly reflected their tastes with a beauty that differs from that of feudal lords' gardens such as Koishikawa Korakuen and Rikugien.

Unique garden of the Taisho-period with a harmonized mixture of Japanese and western tastes

Kyu-Furukawa Gardens 8

1-27-39 Nishigahara, Kita-ku ☎03-3910-0394

National-designated Place of Scenic Beauty "Former Gardens of the Furukawa Family"

Taking advantage of the terrain of the Musashino Plateau, a Western-style house was built on a small hill on the north side, while a Western-style garden lies on the slope, and a Japanese garden is on the low ground. The harmony of the Japanese and Western styles is the charm of the garden. The existent building and garden, built by Toranosuke Furukawa, the third head of the Furukawa Family, are of precious value, as they maintain their original forms of the early Taisho era. The Western-style house and garden were designed by the British architect Josiah Conder who worked on such projects as Rokumeikan and the western style mansion of the Kyu-Iwasaki-tei Gardens from the Meiji to the Taisho era. A famous Kyoto gardener named Ogawa Jihei VII, also known under his titular name as the seventh Ueji, designed the Japanese garden.

Museum Art Deco building in a lush garden

Tokyo Metropolitan Teien Art Museum 10

5-21-9 Shirokanedai, Minato-ku ☎050-5541-8600 (Hello Dial Service)

Important Cultural Property Former Residence Asaka

The Tokyo Metropolitan Teien Art Museum is located at the former Asaka Residence built in 1933 (Showa 8) in Art Deco style. The harmonized space of the exhibition and garden has been popular among visitors since its inauguration in 1983. In 2014 the new building was finished with a White Cube gallery, creating a new space with the purpose of protecting cultural properties and offering the opportunity to appreciate works of art creating new values.

The Garden Legacy of the Hosokawa Clan

Bunkyo City Higo-Hosokawa Garden 15

1-1-22 Mejirodai, Bunkyo-ku ☎03-3941-2010

In the final years of the Edo era, this place has been used as a suburban residence of Hosokawa Etchu no Kami, the feudal lord of Higo Kumamoto 540,000 koku. Utilizing the height difference of the natural plateau, the circuit-style garden around the pond has sloping forests and narrow streams with spring water so that you can see the varied landscape. Camellia sasanqua "Higo", one of the Six Traditional Flowers of Higo, blooms from November to December. Starting at the end of November, there will be a limited-time Autumn Leaves Light-up "Higo Akari" event. (See website for details.) Also, the Western and Japanese-style rooms in the building "Shouseikaku", which retains the appearance of the Taisho era, can be used as meeting rooms (admission fee/advance reservation required). The cafe "Tsubaki" on the first floor serves matcha green tea and sweets, and you can enjoy the tea ceremony while looking out at the garden.

Remains of the Shoin Garden from the Early Showa period

Yamamoto-tei 20

7-19-32 Shibamata, Katsushika-ku
☎03-3657-8577

Katsushika ward registered Tangible Cultural Property "Yamamoto-Tei Gardens", Tokyo Metropolitan Government-selected Historic Place "Katsushika-ku Yamamoto-Tei"

With an area of approximately 892 square meters, is a typical Shoin garden that features a path around a pond and drops a waterfall from the lush shrubbery and artificial hill. The garden preserves the style that was popular at the beginning of the Showa period, which is an extraordinary case these days. The waterfall is located in the farthest place inside the pond, giving the pond an impression of being larger and producing a sympathetic resonance. Also, as a technique to show the surface of the pond wider, coves have been placed on all sides.
